

ONG, JOVAN VILLAREAL

ABOUT ME

I am an enthusiastic and highly motivated Information Systems student at BINUS University with a strong interest in technology, teamwork, and event coordination. Through my involvement in campus organizations and event projects like Topeng The Event, I have developed skills in communication, planning, and creative problem-solving. I enjoy learning new technologies and contributing to collaborative environments. My goal is to grow both personally and professionally by taking on challenges that allow me to make meaningful contributions.
